

EPISCOPAL CHURCH OF THE HOLY REDEEMER GLORY NEWSLETTER

VOLUME 10 NUMBER 11 NOVEMBER 2009

THE SEASON OF PENTECOST/ADVENT

FROM THE CHOIR LOFT

For over 2,000 years, music has been an integral part of worship, both liturgy and hymns. Hymns were introduced as a means of involving the congregation in worship, thus, most of the hymnody of a particular denomination finds its roots in the country of origin – the Lutheran Church has a rich history of Scandinavian and German music, while the Episcopal Church has a rich history in English music. As I select the music for our worship, I keep in mind the scripture readings, as well as the focus of the day, but I try to also be aware of the origin of a particular hymn. The Hymnal 1982 is rich in English hymnody – there are 33 hymns by Ralph Vaughan Williams alone, a great composer recognized in both the sacred and secular musical worlds.

The hymnal committee also chose to represent early English composers, such as Henry Purcell (1659-1695) who is buried in the Composers Corner of Westminster Abbey. Recognizing the fact that the membership of the Episcopal Church represents a larger body than just those from England, in 1993, the church published Lift Every Voice and Sing II, containing music representing spirituals, gospel songs, adapted Protestant hymns, missionary and evangelistic hymns, as well as service music in both traditional and Gospel settings.

When you pick up the hymnal to sing, look for the connection to the scripture readings. Also, check out the writer of the hymn (words), as well as the composer of the hymn tune. You will be pleasantly surprised to see the connection to the day, as well as the world-wide representation of writers and composers that are helping you sing praises to God.

ST MARTIN'S CHAMBER CHOIR

"The Unknown Masterpiece"

Why do some composers achieve enduring fame, while others fade to often undeserved obscurity? On November 6th and 8th St. Martin's Chamber Choir presents "The Unknown Masterpiece", a audience-interactive program where members of the choir will perform a cappella settings of the Mass by two composers who are nearly forgotten today, Steffano Bernardi and Jan Václav Kalivoda.

Performances of "The Unknown Masterpiece" will be given on Friday, Nov. 6, 2009, 7:30 p.m., at Grace Lutheran Church, 1001 13th St., Boulder and on Sunday, Nov. 8, 2009, 4:00 p.m., at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 2015 Glenarm St., Denver. Tickets for these Cameo * concerts are $15 for General Admission and $5 for students. For more information and to purchase tickets (including group discounts) call 303-298-1970 or visit www.StMartinsChamberChoir.org.

* More information about Cameo concerts

Cameo concerts are audience-interactive St. Martin's performances presented in intimate or unusual venues. They usually last about one hour, and are less expensive than full-length St. Martin's concerts. Usually featuring a smaller ensemble from the choir (8-12 singers), Cameo concerts offer listeners a rare opportunity to interact with the conductor and performers in an always lively discussion about the works being performed.
